Dear Harold:

For the record, at one time you loaned to the CTIA, to me and to Jim (who, at that time was CTIA's counsel) certain research files. They have long since been removed from the files by Jim who said he was doing so at your request. I am morally certain that he returned them to you long ago.

However, if you have any doubt whatever that the CTIA has any of your files, come and see and remove them.

There are in my office files certain records of lawsuits filed gratis for you. You may have these, too, if you wish; however, in view of your vituperative and litigious nature, we would insist on keeping a copy of such records.

With total lack of patience,

Bud
